2. OPERATING SEGMENT INFORMATION

For management purposes, the Group is organised into business units based on their products and services and has three reportable operating segments as follows:

(a) the fabric segment engages in the production and sale of knitted fabric, sales of dyed yarns and provision of related subcontracting services;

(b) the garment segment engages in the production and sale of garment products and provision of related subcontracting services; and

(c) the "others" segment includes the provision of sewage treatment services, the provision of air and ocean freight handling services and the property investment.

Management monitors the results of the Group's operating segments separately for the purpose of making decisions about resource allocation and performance assessment. Segment performance is evaluated based on reportable segment profit/loss, which is a measure of adjusted profit/loss before tax.

Intersegment sales and transfers are transacted with reference to the selling prices used for sales made to third parties at the then prevailing market prices.

The Group seeks to maintain strict control over its outstanding receivables and has a credit control department to minimise credit risk. Overdue balances are reviewed regularly by senior management. MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

MARKET REVIEW

In the first half of 2026, the global textile and garment industry remained under pressure from lingering geopolitical tensions, tariff uncertainties, and a cautious procurement stance among downstream retailers. Fluctuations in United States ("U.S.") trade policies and elevated energy costs continued to drive up raw material and logistics expenses, reinforcing broader inflationary headwinds. Reflecting weakened consumer confidence and inventory replenishment slowdowns, U.S. apparel imports contracted by nearly 12% year-on-year ("yoy") in the first quarter of 2026.

Domestically, consumer sentiment in the Chinese Mainland remained fragile. While retail sales of garment and knitwear by enterprises above designated size grew by 6.7% yoy in the first half of 2026, overall economic growth in the second quarter reached its slowest pace since late 2022. Persistent weakness in general consumer spending intensified price competition, placing sustained pressure on operating margins across the sector.

During the Period, the Renminbi ("RMB") appreciated by 3.1% against the U.S. dollar, reaching a three-year high and creating challenges for China-based export businesses. The RMB's strength elevated production costs, placing notable pressure on profitability for textile and garment manufacturers.

BUSINESS OVERVIEW

For the first half of 2026, the Group's textile and garment business were impacted by global macro uncertainties and volatility, which led to shorter, smaller order cycles from customers and lower production efficiency. Geopolitical confrontation between the U.S. and Iran pushed up global oil and fuel prices in the second quarter, and persistent appreciation of the RMB further aggravated cost burdens. These adverse impacts affected the Group's financial performance. Consequently, overall revenue of the Group for this Period decreased by approximately 3.7% yoy to approximately HK$1,774.7 million.

However, attributable to earlier structural optimisations and rigorous cost-control initiatives, the Group achieved significant operational leverage. Profit attributable to ordinary equity holders for the Period rose by 114.4% yoy to HK$13.7 million, yielding basic earnings per share of HK1.6 cents.

For the Period, revenue generated from textile business and garment business accounted for approximately 77.7% and 22.3% of the overall revenue respectively. The textile business was supported by the Group's production bases in China and Vietnam, while the factories in Cambodia mainly manufactured garment products. The Group continued with its established "China+Vietnam+Cambodia" production triangle to deliver flexible and integrated solutions for its global customers.

As a core anchor of this manufacturing strategy, the Vietnam textile production base completed its first phase expansion in April 2026. This milestone expanded the Group's offshore order capacity and enhanced its product portfolio, thereby attracting increased interest and facility visits from prospective international customers seeking non-China sourcing. The Vietnam operations are currently in a ramp-up phase and are expected to progressively scale up production and bolster operating margins. Meanwhile, the Group's production facilities in China and Cambodia continued to leverage their established cost efficiencies and reliable delivery capabilities to serve core customers, reinforcing the Group's market position amid persistent headwinds.

PROSPECTS

Looking into the second half of 2026, the global economic recovery remains fragile. According to the July 2026 World Economic Outlook update by the International Monetary Fund, global GDP growth is projected at 3.0% for 2026, which is below the historical average of 3.5%, reflecting sustained pressures across the global operating environment. Supply chain complexity has been further exacerbated by renewed trade policy adjustments, including new tariff announcements by the U.S. administration in late July 2026, alongside ongoing Middle East instabilities. The RMB appreciation trend that prevailed in the first half of 2026 is forecast to persist through the remainder of 2026, with the market consensus pointing to a lower USD/RMB exchange rate by the year-end. This trend will continue to present operational and margin pressure for Chinese manufacturers and exporters.

While the Group's multi-regional production footprint offers flexible cross-border sourcing options for global brand customers, the management maintains a highly cautious outlook for the second half of 2026. To mitigate potential demand contraction and persistent cost inflation, the Group is enforcing rigorous operational discipline and strict working-capital controls. The management is taking deliberate steps to diversify its customer profile toward non-U.S. markets in Europe and Asia to diminish geographic concentration risks. Additionally, in light of the macroeconomic uncertainties, the Group is adopting a conservative stance regarding future capital expenditure, reassessing the timeline and scope of the next phase of the Vietnam facility to safeguard net cash flow and balance sheet liquidity. The Group is also actively managing its asset portfolio to unlock liquidity and support financial flexibility. To manage foreign currency risk, the Group is closely monitoring its currency exposures and will deploy hedging instruments to mitigate volatility as appropriate. By prioritising asset efficiency, financial resilience, and strict cost control, the Group aims to navigate this challenging operating landscape and protect core enterprise value.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Revenue

Overall sales turnover during the Period was approximately HK$1,774.7 million, representing a decrease of approximately 3.7% (six months ended 30 June 2025: approximately HK$1,843.0 million). The decline was primarily attributable to weaker market sentiment amid a deteriorating global economic outlook. Heightened geopolitical tensions and escalating conflicts involving the U.S. dampened consumer confidence, reducing global spending power on non-essential product categories such as apparel, which in turn posed challenges to the Group's sales performance.

Gross Profit and Gross Profit Margin

Gross profit during the Period was approximately HK$209.9 million, representing an increase of approximately 0.2% (six months ended 30 June 2025: approximately HK$209.5 million). Gross profit margin increased to approximately 11.8% (six months ended 30 June 2025: approximately 11.4%). Gross profit slightly improved, mainly reflecting the benefits of the streamlining of manpower in the second half of last year, together with lower depreciation expenses.

Other Income and Gains, Net

Other income and gains, net during the Period of approximately HK$45.8 million (six months ended 30 June 2025: approximately HK$35.8 million) mainly comprised income received from provision of sewage treatment of approximately HK$20.9 million (six months ended 30 June 2025: approximately HK$14.8 million), rental income of approximately HK$3.7 million (six months ended 30 June 2025: approximately HK$1.9 million), fee income from freight handling services of approximately HK$3.2 million (six months ended 30 June 2025: approximately HK$3.6 million), subsidy income of approximately HK$3.1 million (six months ended 30 June 2025: approximately HK$4.2 million), and bank interest income of approximately HK$0.9 million (six months ended 30 June 2025: approximately HK$2.0 million). The remaining balance was mainly derived from sales of scrap and supply of electricity, water and steam.

Selling and Distribution Expenses

Selling and distribution expenses during the Period decreased to approximately HK$53.0 million (six months ended 30 June 2025: approximately HK$65.0 million). The decrease was in line with the decrease in sales amount, which, coupled with the Group's disciplined control over operating costs, led to a further decrease in the sales-related expense ratio.

Administrative Expenses

Administrative expenses, including salaries, depreciation and other related expenses, decreased to approximately HK$129.5 million during the Period (six months ended 30 June 2025: approximately HK$135.1 million). The decrease in finance costs was primarily driven by the reduction in prevailing bank interest rates in Hong Kong compared to the same period last year.

Net Profit

Net profit attributable to ordinary equity holders of the Company for the Period was approximately HK$13.7 million (six months ended 30 June 2025: approximately HK$6.4 million). The increase in net profit was primarily attributable to expanded non-operating income including rental income and income from provision of sewage treatment alongside disciplined cost control across operations, which lowered both selling and administrative expenses, as well as the decrease in finance costs as mentioned above.
